Riverview Commons Makes Short Agenda Long For Planners

By Frank Messina

Leaning forward in his chair shortly before Tuesday night's Planning Board meeting, Planner Carl Byers speculated that the evening's agenda was light and should be disposed of quickly.

Mr. Byers, a far better planning official than a psychic, didn't take the Andover Business Park into account.

Representatives of John Corcoran, who is also developer of the neighboring Riverview Commons affordable housing project, located off River Street, came before the board with a complicated proposal that involved performing work on the residential and industrial sites simultaneously.

Before laying out the details, let it be known that after 70 minutes of discussion, a compromise was reached and all parties walked out at least partially satisfied.

Now, the scenario:

• Corcoran's request involved the storage of earth removed from the 200-plus apartment development onto his neighboring business park site.

• The first problem: The subdivision is ready for construction, but the business park site won't be developed until tenants are found to occupy the planned second office building on the property which means the land could stay empty for one to three years, said Laura Hill, town planner. One business structure has already been built there by Corcoran.

• The second problem: owners of a neighboring office complex weren't pleased at the prospect of their tenants staring at a 12-foot hill of earth for the next 12 to 36 months.

• The key to the conflict: A buffer zone between the neighbors that currently consists of trees and other vegetation.

Edward Marchant, vice president of John M. Corcoran and Co. wanted to remove most of the buffer zone. This is necessary in order have room on the lot for earth storage and the machines needed to deposit the land fill there, he argued.

"It comes down to a matter of economics," he said.

A representative of the Trammell Crow company, owner of the Andover Research Park next door, said tenants wouldn't be happy with the landfill's aesthetics and would also have problems with dust covering their cars when the earth was dumped.

Marchant pointed out that earth

Margaret Flanagan of Andover, left, was the recipient of the Dorothy K. Bourdeau and the Goldin awards at the 75th annual commencement exercises of Forsyth School for Dental Hygienists. Dean Linda Hanlon makes the presentation. The Bourdeau Award was given to the student who demonstrated clinical excellence, leadership and a high quality of scholarship. Flanagan was selected by her classmates. The Goldin Award, chosen by the faculty, was given to the student who had shown enthusiasm for dental hygiene and demonstrated sensitivity for patients in meeting their oral health needs.

Suffolk Student Receives Award

Debra L. Mascott, of Andover, a graduate student in Suffolk University's School of Management, was recently named as a recipient of the $1,5000 Herbert U. Nelson Memorial Award presented by the National Association of the Board of Realtors.

The award, named for the man who served as the NABR's executive vice president from 1922-55, is presented on a tri-annual national competitive basis to students interested in pursuing a career in real estate. Students must write a one-page essay on their reasons for choosing the real estate field and submit a listing of their educational and employment history, grade point average and special academic achievements.

The NABR has distributed $75,000 through the the Herbert U. Nelson Memorial Award since its inception in 1974.

Mascott, an Andover native, graduated from Andover High School in 1974 and received a BA in American history from Clark University in 1980.

She did three years of administrative work for the Ritchie Office, an architectural firm on Chestnut Hill. From 1983-86 she was office manager and licensed real state broker with the Boston Realty Group/Simon Development Group.

Mascott enrolled at Suffolk in 1986 and is scheduled to receive her MBA in June 1989. She plans to work in the area of real estate development with a concentration in either the architectural field or marketing.

Trends in Kitchen and Bath Design

by Kevin Hennessey and Sean Walsh

APPLIANCE EFFICIENCY

As sources of energy in the kitchen, electricity and gas go nowhere but up in cost. However, the good news is that appliance manufacturers have developed more efficient appliances as an antidote to rising fuel costs. According to the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, current models of refrigerators and dishwashers use an average of twenty to fifty percent less energy than did similar models of fourteen years ago. The news is going to get even better. For instance, the National Appliance Energy Conservation Act of 1987 requires dishwashers to carry such energy-efficient features as air-dry cycles. By 1990, similar energy-saving features will be required of refrigerators and freezers. When remodeling a kitchen, an efficient, well planned layout is vitally important especially if the area is small to begin with. With professional assistance, any size kitchen can be designed to achieve this end. Lazy susan cabinets, hide away appliances, pantry closets, under cabinet appliances, efficiently make use of limited space areas. Call VARIATIONS IN WOOD, INC., to help you design the right kitchen for your needs. Everything is custom made to your specifications in our shop. Look for us at 2370 Turnpike St., Route 114. You can reach us, call 485-4056.

No longer considered to be a luxury item, the trash compactor is now more often installed than not.

The Quest for Perfection

B&W loudspeakers have long been ranked among the finest in the world. Indeed, some would say B&W loudspeakers have no equal — at any price.

The sound engineers at most of the world's great recording studios choose B&W loudspeakers to monitor the fidelity of their analogue and digital recordings.

Andover resident James Sullivan has retired this year from Northern Essex Community College where he was chairperson of the Department of Electronic Technology. Sullivan was appointed to the Northern Essex faculty in 1962, the year after the college opened its doors. More than 50 co-workers, friends and former students honored Sullivan at a recent retirement party at Chestnut's in Haverhill. He donned a freshman beanie which had been given to him by the class of 1969 in honor of the occasion. His wife, Joan, is at Sullivan's right.

Francis Sullivan, a teacher at Lawrence High School and an Andover resident, being congratulated by Charles Daly, director of the John F. Kennedy Library. Sullivan received a $500 prize at a luncheon at the library recognizing the recipients of The Kennedy Library Awards for Outstanding Teaching.

Awarded Prize At JFK Library

Francis Sullivan, a teacher at Lawrence High School and an Andover resident, has been awarded a $500 prize by the John F. Kennedy Library for his work in teaching about the pursuit of peace. Sullivan recognized that the Model United Nations program was ideal for a school with an ethnically diverse population representing more than 40 countries. The juniors and seniors in his class formed the nucleus of the school-wide project that involved 400 students. During the five-month preparation period, the class analyzed the United Nations Organization, learned parliamentary procedure, wrote resolutions, engaged in debates and led discussions on world affairs. The core group of 30 students then taught their colleagues about debate procedure, meeting format and their roles as delegates representing different countries. With school-wide participation and broadcast on local cable television, Lawrence High School's Model United Nations project has become a community event whereby the students help other citizens become better informed and more concerned about global issues.

Sullivan received his prize at an awards luncheon at the Kennedy Library on June 9. He was one of seven Massachusetts teachers honored for outstanding curriculum development on topics relating to the theme "In Pursuit of Peace."

The prizes were awarded as part of the annual Kennedy Library Awards for Outstanding Teaching. This project was established in 1984 to recognize Massachusetts teachers for creative and effective classroom work and to support curriculum development on a variety of topics and issues in American government, politics and history. As part of the Kennedy Library's commemoration of the 1963 limited test ban treaty, prizes were awarded for work on such topics as conflict resolution, disarmament, U.S.-Soviet relations and global war and peace.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

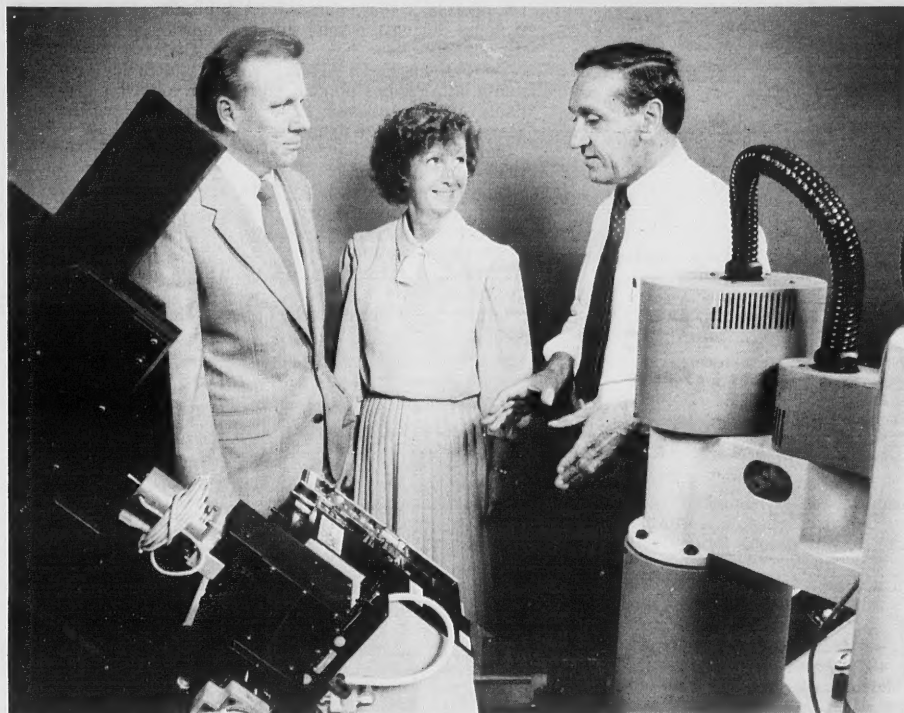

Sometime during preschool, a child understands that money has value and can be used to obtain possessions. He or she doesn't know much about it and probably is not aware of the difference between a penny and a dime. By the age of four, most children know that two coins are more desirable than one coin, but they don't understand much beyond that. With the aid of television advertising - the child now begins to desire toys or other articles that appear on the screen or are seen in stores. It will be difficult for your child to comprehend why a toy can be bought one day and not another. You'll find yourself saying "No" a great deal during this period. Sooner or later your child will have learned that he/she can't have everything.

There is a complete assortment of baby needs available at TINY TOTLAND. We feature famous makers including Simmons, Childcraft and Bassett. Over 80 cribs are on display. Ask about our lay-a-way plan, no extra charge. We feature wall decorations and many accessories. Babies toys...everything from "heaven to seven". Open 9-5:30. Mon. & Th. 9-9. delivery service anywhere from TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N.H. 1-603-623-6171. "Where Quality Costs You Less."

Mary Karl In Concert Wednesday

Mary Karl will perform in Central Park on Wednesday, July 20, at 6:30 p.m. The Boston-born entertainer will present music from the Big Band era of the 1930s and 40s, played by the Mary Karl Dance Band.

Karl got her break in show business at age 11 with a dance and jump rope routine performed on roller skates. She gave up her skating at age 17 to start a singing career that gave her exposure to the country's great jazz musicians and big bands. Karl has appeared in several Hollywood movies and on the Boston stage during a career spanning more than 40 years. During the summer she plays at a number of outdoor free performances, including the DCS Summer Concert Series. Raindate is Thursday, July 21.

If You Weren't Born Rich You Really Need Friends And Neighbors.

When it comes to money, some of us are still kids at heart. We just want to spend it, have fun with it. What we really need are some friends and neighbors who can tell us how to get more out of our money or how to get more out of it when we need it.

Soon two friendly, neighborly banks will be joining forces to form a larger, stronger community bank.

Because of the merger, this bank will be able to make more loans and mortgages and provide an expanded array of products and services. And, it will be more convenient because there will be a total of eight convenient banking locations.

All your friends will still be working there. Your banker will still know you by name. And your bank will still be a concerned and active member of the community.

By George, that's what friends and neighbors are for!

At The Playgrounds

Bancroft: The second week started with the July 4th celebration in Central Park. Bancroft won best playground in the Horribles Parade for the "Good Clean Fun" entry. Eileen Sweeney, Mark and Scott DeCourcy were dressed in shower caps and towels and Margaret Adams marched along with the bathtub. Burgers and fries were enjoyed by Danny Piercy, Brian London and Robby Piantoni on McDonald's Day. Rachel Geldart, Bridget Crewys and Ali Munroe enjoyed making egg carton bugs. Brad McCue, Matt Trede, Brian Landry, Jenn Munroe, Brent Sheehan and Sue Cookson went to Sanborn and won the baseball game 9-3. Hawaiian Day brought out many colorful characters such as Liz Kelley, Mark Wood, Brandy Crewys and Michelle Dalton. Banana beauties were made by Mark Cutler, Megan Munroe, Peter Radockia and Brendan Murray. Fruit salad was enjoyed by Alan Hibino, Heather Geldart, Erin O'Brien and Caitlin Murray. Stephanie Brown, Ali Bicknell, Chris Marden and Susan Kelley.

Sanborn: This week's heat wave made it perfect for water games. Tania was soaked in the water balloon fight. Somehow, Justin Yee's balloon is always full of water. The banana beauty contest was a hit with a few banana buffs. Tamar Carroll's banana was clad in a blue bikini. We also made freindship pins and tie dyed shirts and pillows. Erin McConville had her heart set on Grateful Dead colors. Bancroft playground visited for a game of baseball. Jeremy Schofield and Laurie Centrella played great. There were also some terrific games of kickball. Finally the girls and boys are playing sports together. Battleball is a big hit and everyone from Karen Tessier to Scott Ciruso plays. David Carroll also brought a great ball game from home. The fourth of July was a great success. Everyone had fun playing games, listening to the bands and marching in the Horribles Parade.

South: The weather was hot and the kids were eager to participate in crafts and games to forget the humidity. Tie dye was the most enthusiastic activity of the day with spectacular designs created by Michael Mazza, Kim McKew, Jenny Shapira, Vanessa Scarbeau and Colleen Sheehy. Kickball games were led by the kicking ability of Jamie Klein, Erin Collins and Jessica Chernicki.

West: Jill Corkery, Spanky, Amy Wilkins, Robin and Jay Canavin, Alison and Julie showed up to march in the July 4 parade. Their theme was "The old woman who lived in the west converse high top." Christine Spignesi wore the high top and Jenn McCue was the old woman. Everyone returned to Central Park for the pancake breakfast and games. Tuesday was McDonald's day. The ice cream man finally came. Some of the stars of Capture the Flag, Red Rover and Dead dog were Katie and Timmy Witman, Peter Gillotti, Loni Johnson, Jason Pratt and Chris and Tara Catlado. South came on Wednesday to play hockey and kickball. Ross Austin played a good game. Beth Cummins had a big boot which brought in three runs. Alexi Gonzales played a good game, too. Some kids painted rocks and others made egg carton caterpillars. Thursday was Hawaiian Day. We dressed up bananas, attempted to make leis and had contests for the best dressed Hawaiian outfit and the limbo. Beth Cummins won for best dressed with her multicolored shirt and shorts and orange hair. Jenn brought a hose to keep cool. The week ended with a lively game of kickball and the making of popsicle stick cabins and the weekly cookout.

Shee-Hee/Shaw-Nee: We marched in the Horribles Parade with the theme "The Wizard of Oz." Michael, Joseph and Alan came dressed as the yellow brick road and Eric helped carry the rainbow banner. Everyone enjoyed the games and activities in Central Park. We started the week by making pictures out of colored glue, foam and popsicle sticks. The Shee-Hees learned how to play Dead Dog with Alex, Deanna, Jesse and Patrick doing a great job. Musical chairs was the game of choice for Shaw-Nees (thanks to Jenn's tapes). Marisa, Robin and Christine made great egg carton bugs on Wednesday. Everyone brought in a piece of fruit and the staff mixed it up to make a fruit salad. The She-Hees beat the heat by playing in the sprinklers while the Shaw-Nees played games in the gym. Dominick and Patrick enjoyed Steal the Bacon while Christen won one of the games. Thursday was Hawaiian Day. Brett, Sarah, Deanna and Michelle made gorgeous tissuepaper flowers. Tisa, Jeff M., Jeff V., Joseph and Sarah were winners in the limbo contest. We beat the heat by playing in the sprinklers and eating popsicles. The week was finished with popsicle stick art, tag games and lots of fun. Stephanie, Brendan, Nicole and Jenn named four special helpers for the week: Christen, Sarah, Michelle and Millie.

Ha-Kow-Wee: Week two was delayed a day due to the July 4th holiday, but a few patriotic kampers enjoyed the festivities in Central Park. They were Jeff Irvine, Bernie Vajda, Courtney and Christie Cunningham, Sarah Josslyn, Anthony Vancini, Lindsey Pearson, Judy Vajda, Shawn Flynn and Jessi Deschenes, all of whom dressed as the "Mice who ran up the clock." On Tuesday Brian Trasker, Jessica Colombe, Thomas Meagher, Robin Hall, Stephanie Banos, Jessica Banos, Stephanie Ciampa and Kris Rolfe participated in rousing games of Killer and Indian Chief. Some great works of art were done by

Blood Short

The American Red Cross Blood Services - Northeast Region put out an appeal to the people of Massachusetts and Maine to give blood to alleviate a critical shortage.

According to Peter L. Page, M.D., Northeast Region director, "The supply of all blood groups, particularly O positive and O negative, is below critical levels.

"This is a particularly serious situation as group O is the most prevalent blood type among the population. Patients with group O blood can receive blood only from group O donors," he stressed. Group O blood can also be vital in the treatment of major trauma victims and other emergency cases because it may be safely transfused to patients of any blood type, according to Page.

removal at some point in time would be inevitable, adding that few windows on the first floor of the Andover Research building faced the Corcoran property.

Hill favored leaving the buffer zone untouched as long as possible. The board, with Chairman Russ Moran and boardmember Don Ellsworth absent, agreed with Hill but suggested that a compromise on the width of the buffer zone be reached.

Although Marchant was not completely pleased, all parties agreed that a 32-foot buffer zone would shield Andover Research tenants and still leave the Corcoran Co. enough room for earth storage.

The board unanimously approved the 32-foot buffer zone.

School of Music.

The annual Phillips Academy Summer Chamber Music Festival attracts professional musicians and talented students from all over the United States for six weeks of intensive music study and performance as part of the Phillips Academy Summer Session. Students and faculty perform in a variety of chamber music groups, such as string quartets and woodwind and brass quintets, and large ensembles, including string, chamber and symphony orchestras, wind ensemble and concert choir.

Phillips Academy Andover opened for instruction shortly before the Continental Army marched out of Valley Forge in 1778 and, in a sense, the school and the nation have grown up together. John Hancock signed its Act of Incorporation in 1780 and George Washington sent his nephews there to study. Paul Revere was commissioned in 1782 to make the Phillips Academy seal. He engraved the educational philosophy of Andover's founders, "The end depends upon the beginning," around the symbols of the rising sun and a hive of industrious bees. The founders' commitment to the common good is symbolized by the second motto, "non sibi,"—"not for one's self."

Castle Hill, a 1,400 acre former estate open to the public, is located on Argilla Road. Castle Hill has presented numerous public performances since 1951 and since 1983 has been the home of the Children's Festival, an arts day camp for children ages four to 13. Castle Hill Festival will also present performances of jazz, chamber music, musical theater and opera this summer. The grounds will be available for picnics at 5 p.m. preceding concerts.

Tickets to "Midsummer Magic" concerts are available at the door. Group reservations can be made for 10 or more by calling the academy.

Barry Finegold, a trumpet student from Andover, is the recipient of the Bay Bank Scholarship.

The annual Phillips Academy Summer Chamber Music Festival attracts professional musicians and talented students from all areas of the United States for six weeks of intensive music study and performance as part of the Phillips Academy Summer Session. ## Carillonneur Performs Tuesday

Geert D'hollander, city carillonneur of Antwerp and St-Niklaas, Belgium, will be the featured artist for the third in the series of six summer carillon recitals at Memorial Tower, corner of Main Street (Route 28) and Salem Street on the campus of Phillips Academy, Andover, on Tuesday, July 19, at 7 p.m. He will play a varied program including music from the Roco period, contemporary carillon music and familiar selections.

Listeners will have an opportunity to view the annual display of antique automobiles brought to the recital by the North Shore Old Car Club. The cars will be parked in the lot opposite the doors to Borden Gymnasium, adjacent to the tower. The autos will form a procession and drive from North Andover to the tower via Elm and Main streets within the hour preceding the concert. After they have taken their places in the gym lot, the lot will be opened to as many other cars as space will allow. The concert will be given as scheduled if it rains but the Old Car Club will postpone their outing until the following Tuesday, July 26, when Sally Slide Warner, carillonneur of Phillips Academy, will be the recitalist.

Printed programs and carillon brochures will be in a stand at the tower door. Bring lawn chairs, blankets and picnic suppers and enjoy the bells at the prime listening places suggested on the back of the program. In case of rain, listen from a parked car.

Students In Piano Recital

Students of Mrs. Linda Shen of Andover performed for their families and friends on June 19. Twelve students were introduced who have been recommended by teachers to perform in events supported by the Merrimack Teacher's Association, such as joint recital, master class, joint workshop, festival and National Guild of Piano Teachers auditions.

The first program was performed by Jennifer Aylward, Leah Bonner, Frank Chen, Mark Ewalt, Justin Lau, Zia Melton, Cathy Morgillo, Jillian Nathan, Tara Richards, Lauren Roda, Daniel Wang, Irene Wang, Angeline Yang and Eveline Yang.

The second program was performed by Lisa Cagliano, Daniel Chen, Melissa Ciaccia, Sara Hemeon, Judy Huang, Jenny Huang, Stephaine Marciel, Liz Ormsby, Keith Robinson, Jocelyn Robison, Carrie Rucker, Daniel Shu, Lindsay Strube, Caroline Yao, Dorothy Wu and Debbie Wu.

Academy Announces Summer Chamber Music Festival

Professional musicians and talented students from all areas of the United States will gather in Andover for the annual summer festival of Chamber Music, a six-week program which is part of the Phillips Academy Summer Session, July 8-August 9.

Music Director William Thomas explains that the music for these concerts is selected from the standard repertory for chamber music as well as for larger ensembles in which students and faculty perform together. These larger groups include a string orchestra, woodwind ensemble, chamber orchestra, concert choir and symphony orchestra.

Phillips Academy Andover opened for instruction shortly before the Continental Army marched out of Valley Forge and, in a sense, the school and the nation have grown up together. John Hancock signed its Act of Incorporation in 1780 and George Washington sent his nephews there to study.

Paul Revere was commissioned in 1782 to make the Phillips Academy seal. He engraved the educational philosophy of Andover's founders, "The end depends upon the beginning," around the symbols of the rising sun and a hive of industrious bees. The founders' commitment to the common good is symbolized by the second motto, "non sibi,"—"not for one's self."

All Andover concerts are free of charge and are in Graves Hall to be enjoyed in air conditioned comfort. The public is invited.

Computer Play In Lowell

Sooner or later, almost everyone who works with a computer suspects it might be bewitched or at least slightly touched with black magic.

D.K. Oklahoma, award-winning Lowell playwright, turned these suspicions into a rollicking new comedy, "Psst! Hey, Mac... Wanna Buy a Cheap Computer?" the story of Clarissa LaBoca, a bumbling gypsy-cum-witch who attempts to program her home computer to work magic. Instead she accidentally creates a microchip monster with a devilish sense of humor and no sense of morals.

Then Clarissa tries to unload the bewitched computer onto a couple of bargain hunting innocents, helped by her catty companion, Felix Del Gato (actually her transformed pet feline in human form).

"Psst! Hey, Mac..." will be performed at Liberty Hall in Lowell on Saturday, July 23, at 8 p.m. and Sunda, July 24, at 3 p.m.

Veronica Baker, director of development at Merrimack Repertory Theatre in Lowell, will direct the play. "Psst! Hey, Mac..." is a fun play with a subtly dark side that makes you think a bit, too. I think audiences are really going to enjoy it," she says.

John O'Brien, nationally known Boston playwright will present his one-man show "Feed Back" in conjunction with the Sunday matinee. "Feed Back" was recently filmed for cablevision in the Boston area.

"It's an outstanding performance piece, created entirely by John," said Oklahoma. "I am delighted that he is able to bring it to Lowell."

"Psst! Hey, Mac..." will also be presented at the Edith Nourse Rogers Memorial Veterans' Hospital, 200 Springs Road, Bedford, on Sunday, July 17, at 3 p.m.

The cast includes Diane Brainard as the unlucky witch. Her "pet" is played by Dennis Lorne, a member of Andover Community Theatre.

Ryan Pothier portrays one of the bargain hunters who fall victim to the bewitched computer and Jim Murphy, a member of Quannapowitt Players and former theatre arts teacher, plays the other computer buyer.

Moira McCarthy is an innocent victim of the computer's pranks. She has appeared at Giordano's Dinner Theater, Provincetown Repertory Theatre in Boston and on "Spenser for Hire," among many others.

Monica Tecca of North Andover, a third year Brandeis theatre student, is Lucretia, the diabolical persona of the computer.

The play won a best actor award for the role of the witch at the Northern Virginia Theatre Conference and was filmed for cablevision in the Washington, D.C., area.

The Lowell and Bedford productions are sponsored in part by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery as administered by the Lowell and Bedford Arts Councils.

Tickets will be available at the door.

LGH Begins Autologous Blood Donor Program

Patients at Lawrence General Hospital may now donate blood for their own future use, such as for transfusions during or after elective surgery. The procedure is called autologous blood donation and is the safest way of eliminating the risks of acquiring infectious diseases associated with person-to-person transfusions.

Not all patients are eligible for autologous blood donations. The criteria for eligibility are not as strict as for regular blood donation, so patients who may have been deferred from a blood donation in the past may be eligible.

To arrange an autologous blood donation, a patient must first obtain a written prescription form from his/her physician.

The doctor then schedules an appointment for the patient at Lawrence

General Hospital.

The patient brings the written prescription form and will be interviewed and examined before each donation. The final approval of all donors is made by the blood bank physician.

Autologous blood can be stored for 30 days and may be donated up to 72 hours prior to surgery.

Donations can be made every five days.

Hours for autologous blood donation are Monday through Friday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The National Coordinating Council on Spinal Cord Injury offers a few simple guidelines that will make summer water activities a lot safer.

- Make sure every member of the family knows how to swim;

- Be sure to swim only in areas where swimming is allowed;

- Prohibit horseplay around water;

- Prohibit the use of glass containers or sharp objects, toys, tools or products in or near the water;

- If you swim at night, be sure the water is lit above and below the surface;

- Swimming and drinking don't mix—never swim while intoxicated;

Swimming Safely

- Make sure pool safety equipment is in place, available and in good repair;

- Don't let anyone swim if no lifeguard is on duty and don't try to be a lifeguard unless you have the knowledge and ability to do so.

Never leave a young child alone near water, even for a moment. Lock gates and doors leading to pool areas when children cannot be supervised.

Make sure children do not have access to pools or other water areas if an adult who can swim is not with them. Inflated toys or rafts should only be used by children when an adult who can swim is within arm's length. Remember, a child whose lungs are filling with water is not capable of screaming for help.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

Only two weeks remain until Christmas, Christmas in July, that is. On Monday, July 25, you can enjoy a traditional holiday dinner with all the trimming, entertainment with Chet Harnden and his big band sound, prizes and surprises for only $2.50 for Andover residents age 60 and older. Space is limited, so get your tickets early.

Are you over age 55 and interested in a part-time position in comfortable surroundings working with older people? A vacancy exists with the Andover Council on Aging for a senior aide. We are looking for a warm, caring, outgoing individual to work in the adult day care program. Call Daniel Madio, director of the senior aides program at Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley at 1-800-892-0890.

Space is available in two new dance classes at the senior center. Beginner and advanced line dancers will receive expert instruction from Ruth and John Dwyer on Tuesdays from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Wilfred McAvoy teaches intermediate line dancing on Wednesdays from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The cost is $12 for the summer session. Non-residents pay an additional fee.

De. Matthew Cushing will discuss Men's Health Issues on Wednesday, July 20, at 12:45 p.m. This frank discussion is open to men and their wives.

Diabetes and You, a two-part series, will be conducted by the Greater Boston Diabetes Society on Thursday, July 14 and 28, at the senior center from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon. Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease in the United States. One in 16 individuals will develop diabetes and the incidence increases with age. This program will include information on types and symptoms of diabetes as well as management, control and nutritional management. There is no charge.

Free blood pressure screening clinics are held every Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the senior center. The sign-up list is available at 1 p.m. and patients are taken in order. While waiting in air-conditioned comfort, enjoy current magazines which have been donated by the First Essex Bank.

Marsha Mason and Richard Dreyfus star in "Goodbye Girl" at 1 p.m. on July 14 and 9:30 a.m. July 15. The July 21 and 22 film is "Arthur" starring Lisa Minelli and Dudley Moore.

Armchair travellers will enjoy a trip to Scotland on Monday, July 18, at 1 p.m. at the senior center. There is no charge.

The Andover downtown shuttle offers free transportation Monday through Friday from 7:31 a.m. to 6:21 p.m. with continuous service on a fixed route connecting the senior center with Town Hall, Andover Commons, Frye Circle, Shawsheen Square, Chestnut Court and downtown shopping areas. Call 470-3830 for a complete shuttle bus schedule.

Bay State Introduces New Area Code

The next best thing to being there is area code 508, effective July 16, and it's going to change the way Massachusetts operates. Bordering area code 413 in the western part of the state and area code 617 in metropolitan Boston, the new 508 boundary encompasses many of Massachusetts' attractions.

508 is more than a new area code. It's America's history, from the battles of Concord to the textile mills of Lowell, and Massachusetts' nautical history, from Bristol County's New Bedford Whaling Museum and Fall River's Battleship Cove to Gloucester's working harbor.

Travelers to the beaches and islands, whether heading to the "Flying Horses" Carousel of Martha's Vineyard, the cobblestone village of Nantucket or the wild life preserves of Plum Island, will be in 508 country. Voyagers can travel back in time with the Pilgrims at Plimoth Plantation and the early settlers of Old Sturbridge Village.

The sound of music can be found at Great Woods in Mansfield, the Centrum in Worcester, the Cape Cod Melody Tent in Hyannis and the North Shore Music Theatre in Beverly.

Bon Secours Site For Mobile Lithotripter

Bon Secours Hospital, 70 East St., Methuen, recently received approval from the Massachusetts Public Health Council to provide mobile kidney lithotripter services. The service will be provided in conjunction through the New England Health Network, a consortium of ten Massachusetts hospitals.

Bon Secours Hospital will be one of two sites in the Merrimack Valley with mobile lithotripter capabilities.

Extra Corporeal Shock Wave Lithotripsy (ESWL) is an electro-hydraulically generated pressure wave, commonly used to treat patients with kidney stones without the use of surgery.

In as little as 30 minutes, a lithotripter treatment can reduce kidney and urea stones to a fine sand which can be passed during normal urinary function. The procedure requires no anesthesia and is performed on an outpatient basis.

The benefits for patients includes the elimination of surgery, shortened inpatient stays and outpatient treatments resulting in reduce medical costs.

Bon Secours Hospital will receive the first state-of-the-art HM4 Lithotripter which employs a pressure regulated water cushion rather than a water bath for treatment use as in the HM3 lithotripter.

Two HM3 Lithotripters are already in operation in the state, at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston and the Lahey Clinic in Burlington.

Since physicians not on staff at Massachusetts General Hospital or the Lahey Clinic are unable to admit patients, physicians having the capability to perform the procedure go outside Massachusetts. Bon Secours Hospital urologists obtained privileges at Elliot Hospital in Manchester, N.H.

"The hospital recognizes that no one community hospital at the present time could justify the expense of a lithotripter unit based on need within their own geographic area," explains Diane Bissonnette, Bon Secours Hospital's vice president/strategic planning. "By working in coalition with ten other hospitals, the hospital is reducing the overall cost to the health care system by sharing expenses with a network of hospitals while still providing the services to local residents."

The mobile ESWL unit will provide state-of-the-art lithotripter services on the grounds of Bon Secours Hospital two days a month beginning in September. The unit is expected to serve up to eight outpatients a day on a physician-referral basis.

Bon Secours Hospital medical staff members Charles R. Burke, M.D., Steven R. Previte, M.D. and Ossama El Sayed Sakr, M.D. are board certified in the lithotripter procedure. They are also affiliated with New England Neurological Associates in North Andover.

The mobile ESWL unit would provide services on-site at Bay State Medical Center, Springfield, Emerson Hospital, Concord, Framingham Union Hospital, Leonard Morse Hospital, Natick, Marlborough Hospital, Salem Hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Boston, Waltham Weston Hospital and Medical Center, Waltham, Worcester Hahnemann Hospital and Worcester Memorial Hospital on a scheduled basis.

Rezoning to accommodate a retirement community on the grounds of Abbot Academy, may be presented to the October town meeting, although the town and proponents of the 250-unit facility may still examine whether a variance to existing laws could facilitate the plan. Life Care is interested in developing the retirement community, retaining the current landscape of the Abbot Campus.

Jordon J. Burgess, of Canterbury Street, senior vice president of the Bay State National Bank, has been appointed to a three-year term on the Finance Committee by Moderator James J. Doherty.

Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday night at 7:30 in the meeting room of Memorial Hall library. Among agenda items will be a discussion of the progress in relieving the dirty water conditions in Shawsheen Village.

The Finance Committee Tuesday night approved transfers from the reserve fund of $13,865.84 for fiscal 1979. Transfers are made by the Fin-Com at the request of the town manager to meet unforeseen or emergency matters during the course of the fiscal year.

Homeowner Gets Planners' OK To Clear Poison Ivy

Subdivision's Vegetation Protected

By Frank Messina

The Planning Board provided an escape valve to a Spencer Court homeowner restricted from clearing poison ivy out of his yard by limitations placed on the subdivision developer.

But, after issuing clemency to the family, the board made it clear they would consider other requests from homeowners in the 14-lot subdivision strictly on a case-by-case basis.

Board member Susan Stott said that she didn't want other property owners to expect automatic approval of their petitions. Steve Colyer, Andover town planner, said he anticipates that other homeowners will be coming forward.

The Spencer Court subdivision was built around sensitive wetlands area and open land which are protected by buffer zones. As part of the conditions for approving the subdivision, any type of vegetation removal or earth disturbance was prohibited by the town.

This has left several homeowners between poison ivy and a hard place.

Stephen J. Travers of 8 Spencer Court told the planning staff in a letter that the poison ivy "so close to our house poses a serious health risk, especially to our young children and other children who will be playing in the yard."

"I have much more sympathy for someone who owns the land and is going to be sticking around than for a developer," said board member Michael Houghton before voting to approve.

The board also lifted a stop work order imposed against Picwel Builders Inc. last month for violating the same Spencer Court earth disturbance restriction.

"While preparing the lot for construction, (Picwel) cleared trees and shrubbery from the area protected," Colyer told the board in a June 9 memo. "The developer was warned of this infraction verbally and made aware of the fact that earth disturbance was prohibited in the restricted area."

Originally, Picwel was told it would not be permitted to start construction again until the company replanted the entire area "and make things like they were," said Colyer.

However, Tuesday night, the board agreed to let Picwel re-landscape the area and make the land resemble neighboring open space rather than its previous jungle-like appearance.

Middle School Teachers Participate In Workshops

By Julie M. Barry

Writing a student and a parent handbook and a proposed staff development plan for the middle schools is being tackled this week by several faculty members at daily workshops.

The middle school program is one of several teacher workshops held throughout the summer.

Four middle school teachers, Brenda Doherty, Bennie Ebersole, Bob Mirisola and Marcia Harol, participated in the workshop, which is geared toward staff development. Workshop participants met at West Middle School every day this week from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Centennial Section To Appear Next Week

Preparation of the special section commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Andover TOWNSMAN is in the final stages. The 128-page section will be published next Thursday, July 21, as part of the regular edition of the TOWNSMAN.

The special section will be divided into five categories beginning with the history of the newspaper itself including excerpts from some of the major stories which have affected Andover over the years.

Section two will be devoted to Andover's people, old and young, with personal interviews and commentaries from old and young alike. There will be outlines of some of the famous people of Andover and a listing of officials through the years. There will also be a story dealing with Andover merchants past and present.

The history of the town will be reviewed in section three and will include a listing of famous events through the past century.

The hot weather over the past week didn't stop these kids, above, from having a good time at the Dragon's Lair at the Bancroft Elementary School playground. Below, a group of sweaty Andover kids break the heat with a cool drink and some popsicles after the all-too-familiar bell came sounding up the street announcing the ice cream man.

Not all activities at the playgrounds are sports-oriented, above, Megan Munroe puts the finishing touches on a stick house she built, while Matt Gilmore and Katie Casie look on.

At South School Brendan Sheehy, Rocky Tradd and Michael Sheehy found the best way to beat the heat was by "breaking" the summertime blues away.

Good Project

It is unfortunate that Nancy Jeton is stepping down as the town's principal planner, but her continuing to work for the town in updating the zoning bylaws is most fortunate for the future of Andover.

Jeton performed her duties well as principal planner, developing a department which oversees the growth of the community.

She provided the planning board with studied recommendations on such things as the always controversial affordable housing issues as well as examining subdivision plans before planners made decisions on them.

In all matters her efforts were aimed at protecting the town and the townspeople and also protecting the landscape of a community rapidly running out of developable land.

Now, she will be focusing on gathering the zoning bylaws, studying modern needs to assist planners and zoning board of appeals members in making decisions.

There is a definite need for such an effort and it would seem Jeton is well suited to perform the task.

Times have changed considerably since zoning bylaws were first adopted by the town in the 1930's.

As an example, in those days television was simply thought of and not a part of the everyday life of the 1980's. With that change has come such things as satellite dishes and, while there may be some regulations covering such things in the zoning bylaws, it would be better if the problem was addressed more conveniently and accurately.

A few years ago the zoning board had to deal with the problem of windmills, as some residents sought alternative energy sources.

There will be a continued occasional need to address such things as the placement of convenience stores, possibly in outlying areas of the town. As Andover continues to undergo residential construction, there will be a need for such stores in places other than the center of town or in shopping center areas.

Such requests have constantly met with disapproval of neighbors and subsequently rejected, either by town meeting or zoning board decisions.

Properly regulated, they may be welcomed to growing neighborhoods in various sections of the community.

The bylaws have not been examined thoroughly or updated since the 1960's when Atty. Robert Zollner undertook the project and eventually presented the total package to town meeting.

Certainly the time is ripe to reexamine the bylaws again and bring them into 1980's form with an eye toward insuring that Andover's future growth will be well regulated.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — May 1888

The Andover Brass Band will give their first outdoor concert at the band-stand next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The mills were started on Monday after a week's shutdown, the work of putting in the new shaft and pulleys being finished Saturday.

The new certificates permitting children between thirteen and sixteen years of age to be employed in public establishments, were received by the School Committee and Mr. Holt of the Committee issued 49 on that day to children employed by the Smith and Dove Co.

Boston parties are thoroughly renovating the plumbing at the residence of T.D. Thompson, on Central Street.

The new school-building is progressing finely, the walls being up to the second floor. The Gile house, farther up on Bartlet St., is up and its sides boarded in.

The fire engine company of the Smith & Dove Co. had their usual monthly practice last Saturday.

Seventy-five pupils entered college, scientific school, or professional school, direct from Phillips Academy last year — a record which probably cannot be surpassed by any school in America.

75 Years Ago — May 1913

The heavy rain on Thursday morning was welcomed by the farmers whose crops were suffering badly from drought. Although there was not as much rain as hoped for, the long dry spell was broken and as a result the crops were saved.

Local people have taken advantage of the bargains during Merchants' Week in Lawrence. The crowded electric cars which have passed through Andover nearly every day, bringing out of town people in Lawrence, showed that advantage was being taken of the opportunity to buy goods at reduced prices.

The Andover Canoe Club will hold a regatta at the clubhouse Saturday, July 12, at 3 o'clock. The sports will comprise single single, single double, mixed singles, hand paddle, novelty, tub and swimming races, tilting tournament, tug of war, and life-saving. Members may invite guests.

The State Highway department is making much needed repairs on the highway between Marland and Frye Village.

Superintendent of Public Works has had a gang of men at work this week spreading tarvia on the highway on South Main Street.

The employees of the Tyer Rubber company are enjoying a ten days' vacation while the annual repairs and alterations are being made at the factory.

Mrs. Jerry O'Connor and children, Peter and Elizabeth, and Mrs. Joseph Beaulieu and son Joseph, are visiting relatives in Souris, Prince Edward Island.

50 Years Ago — May 1938

Sewer projects, water extensions and sidewalk work were considered at the meeting of the Board of Public Works held on Tuesday night, but no definite action was taken because of lack of funds.

The second hole-in-one of the current season at the Andover Country club was made last Saturday by Clifford M. North, chairman of the greens committee, on the fifth hole, 130 yards.

Several school department bills have been held up by the selectmen because of alleged exorbitant charges for transportation. The bills were from several supervisors who use their own cars for transportation to the outlying schools.

The local Legion Junior team is now in the throes of a late-season warm-up. After a very slow start, the boys have come back to show some really effective baseball in their last three games.

The Board of Health has adopted an extensive set of new rules and regulations. The first rules were adopted in 1892, revisions made in 1916.

Eighty six adults and over thirty children attended the Arbroath association's annual picnic held last Saturday at Pelham, N.H.

Tomorrow night the annual baby popularity contest will be held on all three playgrounds, and the following week an amateur contest will be held.

Efforts to cut down speeding in Andover are to be intensified, Chairman Howell F. Shepard of the Board of Selectmen stated Tuesday night. Eight speeders appeared before Judge Hargedon yesterday morning in local court, and the names of many others have been sent to the registry of motor vehicles.

The British War Veterans' auxiliary enjoyed a penny beano after their meeting last evening.

25 Years Ago — May 1963

The Selectmen have approved the Eastern Mass. Street Railway's request to use local streets and Rt. 93 ramps for an express route to Boston.

The School Committee is being asked to substitute some form of religious observance, at the opening of the school day, for the now-banned Bible reading and Lord's Prayer. The Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, pastor of the Free Christian Church, has taken the position that some religious observance should be substituted, without defying the ruling of the Supreme Court that recitation of the Lord's Prayer, or reading from the Bible, is in violation of Constitutional rights.

Francis J. Mooney of Sutherland Street was sworn into office as Postmaster late last week.

All meetings of the committee studying the town manager charter, and how it has been functioning, must be open to the public. Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien has ruled that the committee falls within the scope of the Open Meeting law, and the special section dealing with committees investigating the government.

It's another booming year for the public schools. Advance forecasts indicate at least 311 more children will be enrolled this September than were in school in September, 1962.

Disservice

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

A grave disservice has been done to those Andover voters who attended the June 20 Town Meeting and, on the recommendation of the town committees and groups supportive of the collaborative school, voted no to the article when they were in support of the concept. Conceivably, they were as much as half of those who cast a no ballot.

Ten years ago, more or less, a minority of Andover parents sought an educational alternative for their children. The result was the traditional program, attended by a minority of students who were bused to the program from all over town. It was voluntary, no one was required to attend. I hope if a similar minority of parents feels as strongly about the current educational alternative, a school in collaboration with the City of Lawrence, that the School Committee will respond as it did 10 years ago and plan a program that is educationally sound and looks to the issues of the 1990's and the year 2000. I hope that if such a group of parents emerges and if the School Committee develops an educational alternative that the community, i.e., the majority of Andover parents uninterested in such a choice for their children, will permit it to happen.

I wish such an alternative was available when my children attended the Andover public schools. If my children were of elementary school age, I would be part of the minority demanding they be given such an educational alternative just as 10 years ago a minority of parents demanded the School Committee provide the traditional program.

Town Meeting Effectiveness

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

This is in response to the June 23 letter from Ms. Elizabeth Korn Schoenherr. Ms. Schoenherr expresses discomfort over the value and effectiveness of town meeting. She raises a number of important issues, such as implying the need for free child care for those parents wishing to attend or the availability of absentee ballots for those unable to attend. However, her argument falls short on a number of major points.

Ms. Schoenherr says she feels "discomfort" with the suggestion that town meeting is the purest form of democracy. The fact is, town meeting is the purest form of democracy that is still actively used. In a pure democracy, all the people discuss and vote on every issue. Town meeting is one of the few institutions remaining in this country that comes close to pure democracy. Contrary to what Ms. Schoenherr implies, the more representational democracy becomes, the less pure it becomes. Granted, pure democracy may not be the best form (as philosophers since the time of Aristotle have discussed). However, Ms. Schoenherr is mistaken when she says town meeting is not the purest form of democracy.

Ms. Schoenherr complains that a town meeting was held when most of the faculty at Phillips Academy take their vacation. "Weddings, vacations, visits with relatives...prevented a sizeable number of faculty from participating." Would it have been better if the town clerk's office called every registered voter's home until an acceptable date on which nobody had planned a vacation could be reached? Is the fact that a select few in our community cannot attend justification for ending the meetings altogether? Should we eliminate congress because 535 representatives cannot attend every session?

In her letter, Ms. Schoenherr advocates a more representational system, like that found on the state and national level. The representational system definitely has some more convenient aspects than a pure democracy. All one has to do to participate is cast a ballot once a year or once every couple of years. However, very few candidates hold the same view as we do on every topic. If we want to express our opinions about issues which we disagree with the official we elected, the means are limited. But "voters are free to write letter individually, collect signatures and submit petitions, attend and speak out at meetings of the governing bodies." Ms. Schoenherr argues, "While circumstances (such as vacations and lack of child care) necessarily prevent every voter from attending any given town meeting, no one is prevented from expressing opinions through the means just described." To this I pose one question: if a working parent cannot afford a babysitter for one evening, how could he or she possibly afford one for the time it takes to "collect signatures and submit petitions" or "attend and speak out at meetings of the governing bodies?" Town meeting is effective because one need not spend all his or her afternoons and evenings trying to win public approval before being allowed to have his or her opinion heard. All one has to do is attend.

Ms. Schoenherr also implies that the meetings themselves hold little value. "For many, if not most, town residents it is not the...speeches made on the night of town meeting that determine their vote on sensitive issues: rather, it is a careful, studious examination of all the facts and opinions that they're able to gather over the course of weeks and months." This may be true, but a significant percentage (for instance, college students who have returned to Andover in the past month after a nine-month absence) or those attending do form their opinion at the meeting or from reports of the meeting. Many people are not thoroughly familiar with every issue. Town meeting allows them to hear each point of view on controversial topics.

Finally, town meeting allows the town government to get a feel of local opinion. It holds much the same purpose as polling does on the state and national level. Government agencies are constantly trying to find out national opinion before the government takes action. Why should our local governors be denied this necessity?

Town meeting has its flaws, and Ms. Schoenherr did a thorough job in pointing them out. There is an apparent need for child care and absentee ballots if town meeting is to achieve the ideal of a pure democracy. However she went overboard, missing the point of what town meeting is all about. The fact is, town meeting is the last American institution where people can voice their opinions publicly, even if they lack the necessary time or funding to organize campaigns or petition. We should strive to perfect it, not eliminate it.

Unspeakable Offense

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I take unspeakable offense at Donald Robb's comment at the June 28 School Committee meeting that events at the June 20 Town Meeting were reminiscent of "Nazi Germany."

Those who feel it appropriate to blast others opposed to the Collaborative School project with labels such as "bigot" now have a new, infinitely more heinous epithet, courtesy of Mr. Robb—"Nazi."

My sincere hope is that this odious comparison stems from Mr. Robb's woefully inadequate knowledge of history. It is inconceivable that he could make such a disgusting equation between the Nazis, who systematically tortured and destroyed millions of people, and those who are opposed to an unworkable, financially precarious school "experiment," unless Mr. Robb is simply ignorant.

Any other motive or explanation is too repugnant to even consider.

Decorate America House

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

It is so delightful to see our town from Main Street to Shawshen to Ballardvale bedecked in American flags for our special holidays.

It is somewhat surprising, however, that our very own America House does not get very much recognition beyond the standard flags in front. I rather expected it to be fully draped in flags to point out its importance. How many residents know it is there, I wonder.

Perhaps those responsible for this activity could consider decorating the America House for a more elaborate fashion for the next time.

Legion Posts Pair Of Wins

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Post 8 Legion baseball team chalked up a pair of victories over Haverhill (7-1) and Salem (8-4) last weekend, but also dropped three tough decisions to Methuen (7-3), Peabody (3-2) and Lawrence (8-7).

Strong pitching performances by John Russell and Barry Connors against Haverhill and Salem respectively keyed the week, while the one-run setbacks to Peabody and Lawrence both occurred when the rival teams struck for two runs in the seventh inning.

Lawrence Legion Post 15 completed an amazing comeback by scoring a pair of unearned runs in the top of the seventh inning, totally erasing what was once a seven-run deficit on the way to that 8-7 triumph.

The busy week's results left coach Al Pelletier's crew at 5-7 overall in Essex County Zone 8-8A play.

A game with Wakefield last week was postponed by threatening skies, and the makeup has been inserted in the schedule on Tuesday, July 26 at the Phillips Academy field.

Things didn't get any less hectic for Post 8 this week, the locals scheduled for four games on four successive nights.

Last Tuesday Andover was scheduled to travel to Revere, last night Post 8 entertained Beverly, tonight the locals face Lynn under the lights at Fraser Field (8 p.m.), and tomorrow evening North Andover comes to Phillips Academy for a 6 o'clock contest.

Lawrence, 8-7

With righthander John Russell on the mound and a 7-0 lead after one inning, Andover seemed like a safe bet to beat Lawrence (8-4 record).

But Post 15 nicked Russell for single runs in the second and third, scored four times in the sixth and twice in the seventh to pull it out.

Scott Wallace launched the seven-run Andover first inning when he was hit by a Brendan Neilon pitch.

Tom Murray reciprocated by hitting Neilon on the pitching arm with a line drive single, literally knocking the Lawrence starter out of the box.

Barry Connors followed with a run-scoring single off reliever Sean Carlson, John Moossa's grounder was misplayed for a run, Keith Abernathy walked, Kevin Foley sliced a two-run single to leftfield, Surette spanked an RBI single, and Russell made it 7-0 with a two-run single.

Carlson settled down to shut Andover out the rest of the way, although he needed seventh-inning relief help from Joe Colon.

Post 15 collected an unearned run in the second, an error preceding Carlson's RBI single, and in the third Shawn Phillips lashed a run-producing single.

In the sixth Mike Conway's two-run triple and Andover resident Mike Lane's run-scoring double helped close the gap to 7-6.

A throwing error led to the tying and winning runs in the top of the seventh.

Andover didn't die easily, however, as Abernathy slapped a two-out single and Foley walked to keep things alive briefly in the bottom of the seventh. Steve Surette followed with a hard line drive to leftfield, but the ball was flagged down to end the game.

Russell worked the first five innings, yielding four hits, fanning four, walking four and hitting one batter.

Curt Solomon (0-1) was the losing hurler in relief, walking three and surrendering three hits in two frames.

Surette and Abernathy sparked the nine-hit Andover attack with two safeties apiece, Surette clouting a double.

Methuen, 7-3

Greg Coppeta scattered seven hits, fanning eight and walking four, and Methuen Post 122 broke open a tight 2-1 game with three runs in the fifth and

Andover Gold Wins Big

By Rick Harrison

After dropping a tough 3-2 decision to its intra-town archrival, Andover Gold came back with a vengeance to outscore its next two opponents by a combined 29-1 margin en route to a pair of victories last week and a 6-2 overall record in the Greater-Reading Pony League.

Following the loss to Andover Blue, AG hit the road to hammer Wilmington 19-1 at the Wildcats' North Intermediate School and the Stoneham Tigers 10-0 at the Boys' Club field in Stoneham.

Highlighting the week were three outstanding pitching performances by Bill Batchelder, Matt Orlando and Bryan Smith.

Batchelder, 3-1, was the tough-luck loser against Blue. He fired a complete-game three-hitter, allowing just one earned run, fanning eight and walking four.

Two of the Blue safeties were a suicide-squeeze bunt and a soft line drive single that nicked off the Gold first baseman's glove, both hits scoring runs. Batchelder now has pitched 23 innings this season, yielding 13 hits, three earned runs and striking out 42.

Righthander Matt Orlando, 2-0, came back with a route-going four-hitter at Wilmington. He struck out six, walked three and the lone run against him was unearned.

Righthander Bryan Smith, 1-0, in his first start and just his second appearance overall this summer, stopped Stoneham on four singles. Smith whiffed one batter in each inning, seven altogether, and walked only two en route to the shutout.

Gold was scheduled to return to action last Tuesday night, hosting the Reading Astros in the first of three consecutive home games at the Andover High field.

Tonight at 6 o'clock AG hosts Lynnfield, the two teams locked in a tie for first place in their division, and Saturday at 10 a.m. Gold faces the Reading Jets.

Andover Gold, 19-1

Bill Batchelder contributed four hits and two RBI, Bryan Smith three hits and four RBI, and Matt Orlando two hits and four ribbies as AG pounded Wilmington.

The locals put together back-to-back five-run innings to start the game, then added four in the third, four in the fifth and one run in the sixth.

Matt Orlando, after escaping a bases-loaded jam in the bottom of the first with a strikeout, was in command the rest of the way.

Highlights of the AG first were run-producing doubles by Matt Daniels and Orlando, along with RBI singles from Mark Hopkinson and Mike Sullivan.

Gold batted around in the second, with run-scoring singles by Batchelder and Smith, and in the third Smith laced a two-run single and Orlando hoisted a sacrifice fly.

In the fifth Smith belted an RBI double and Orlando a run-producing single, while a bases-loaded walk to Orlando forced home the final marker in the sixth.

Sullivan and Hopkinson added two hits apiece to the 16-hit barrage, while Jim Landry and Peter Arthur also smacked singles.

Batchelder and Smith scored four runs each, Hopkinson three, Landry two, Sullivan two and Scott Halecki two after walking three straight times.

First baseman Bryan Smith made the defensive play of the game, catching a line drive and doubling a Wilmington runner off third base to end a fourth-inning rally that produced the 'Cats lone run.

Andover Gold, 10-0

Gold set a dubious team record by stranding 17 runners in the seven-inning game, leaving the bases loaded four times, but the victors also drilled 15 hits including six doubles on the way to the triumph over the Stoneham Tigers.

Bryan Smith mastered Stoneham, allowing just two runners beyond second base, as he had a fastball, curve, knuckler and changeup all working well.

AG took a 1-0 lead in the first as Jim Landry beat out an infield hit, Scott Halecki walked and Bill Batchelder rapped an RBI single to centerfield.

In the second Jim Hanning reached when his grounder was misplayed, and he later crossed on a throwing error.

In the third inning Matt Orlando doubled, took third on Matt Daniels' single, and scored on Peter Arthur's sacrifice fly to leftfield.

The four-run fourth, which saw 10 Gold batters parade to the plate, featured a walk to Batchelder, RBI double by Smith, single by Mark Hopkinson, walk to Matt Orlando, RBI walk to Arthur and run-scoring singles by Hanning and Landry.

In the fifth Hopkinson reached on a fielder's choice and scored on the second of Orlando's three doubles. Orlando took third on a wild pitch and trotted across on a balk.

The 10th run came in the sixth as Mike Famiglietti singled, Mike Sullivan slapped a double to left-centerfield, Todd Murray walked and Smith lofted a sac-fly to leftfield.

Stoneham's most serious threat came in the bottom of the first, when a hit batsman and single put runners at second and third with one out. Smith worked free, however, with a strikeout and flyball to centerfielder Hopkinson.

Smith retired the last five batters he faced and had 1-2-3 innings in the

AUTOMOTIVE SECTION

West Street Motors Moves To Methuen

West Street Motors moved to its new location, the former North Country Jeep Dealership on Pelham Street in Methuen last weekend.

The move was supervised by Sid Zussman, president, and Lee Weiner, treasurer, who supervised the moving of over 300 cars by volunteers from the lower Tower Hill, Lawrence location where the dealership was located for over 70 years. A mechanic was on hand to start cars that may have balked. "Of 300 cars, one of them is going to give you trouble," Mr. Zussman said.

Mr. Zussman found the move somewhat nostalgic, in view of his being with the dealership for 38 years. Found in the process of moving was a fender from a 1948 Oldsmobile and some training manuals for 1947 cars.

The company will run a satellite location at the Lawrence shop and will add Jeep Eagle to its line of cars at the Methuen location.

Sid Zussman, left, president and Bruce Hagman, body shop worker, prepare to raise new flag at West Street Motors new Methuen location.

Andover Blue Undefeated

The Andover Blue defeated Wilmington and Reading with come-from-behind victories.

Andover Blue 11
- Wilmington 7

The Blue fell behind 2-0 in the first but managed a run on Bobby Sheehan's single, two stolen bases and scored on a wild throw. The Blue took the lead in the second when Todd Allard reached on an error and scored on Matt Harris' triple and Ben Russell ripped a single, scoring Harris. Wilmington scored two in the third, taking a 4-3 lead. The lead was short lived, however, as, with one out, Joe Marinaro singled, went to second on a wild pitch and scored when Justin Hesenius reached on an error. Then Brendan Sharkey doubled, scoring Hesenius for a 5-4 lead. Wilmington regained the lead in the fourth and Allard relieved starter Sheehan. The Blue put this one away in their half of the fourth when Russell led off with his second single and scored when Adam Brown reached on an error and scored on Brian Novelline's single. Novelline scored on Marinaro's ground out to deep short making the score 8-6. The Blue scored three more in the sixth paced by hits by Matt Harris, Justin Hesenius and a double by Sheehan. Allard held Wilmington the last two innings and was aided by an outstanding game-ending catch by Josh Nelken.

Andover Blue 9 -
Reading Astros 5

The Blue fell behind 1-0. In the second Joe Marinaro and Justin Hesenius reached on errors. Then Matt Harris ripped a double, delivering in a pair. Harris and Marinaro lead the Blue in runs batted in with seven. Adam

Brown reached on a fielder's choice, stole two bases and scored on a passed ball to give the Blue a 3-1 lead. Brendan Sharkey walked in the third and scored on Brian Novelline's double. The Blue maintained a 4-1 lead, paced by the steady pitching of Marinaro until the sixth when Reading scored four to take a 5-4 lead. The Blue fought back in the seventh when Novelline tripled, Mari-naro walked and Allard was hit by a pitch. With one out Harris walked and the tying run scored.

Gold

second, fourth, fifth and seventh.

Gold left the bases loaded in the first, second, fourth and seventh stanzas.

The white-hot Orlando led the offense with a perfect 4-for-4, making him 9-for-15 over the last five games (.600 average).

He also scored three runs, drew a walk and reached base five consecutive times in the game.

Smith finished the game 2-for-3 and Landry 2-for-6.

Defensively Matt Orlando made a fine catch of a foul pop at third base, Mike Famiglietti also made a nice play late in the game at third, and catcher Matt Daniels was a standout behind the plate.

Andover Blue, 3-2

Gold raced to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first, but did little with Blue pitcher Joe Marinaro the rest of the way.

Blue, meanwhile, chipped away for single runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings to pull out the come-from-behind triumph at AHS.

Three of the four batters that Bill Batchelder walked ended up scoring for Blue.

In the AG first Matt Orlando drew a leadoff walk, Jim Landry dropped a sacrifice bunt and reached when the ball was misplayed, Bryan Smith bounced a one-out RBI single to rightfield, and Landry scored on Mark Hopkinson's infield out.

Marinaro then retired 10 of the next

11 batters, and worked out of jams in the fifth and seventh innings.

In the Gold fifth Scott Halecki lashed a one-out single, Jim Hanning walked, and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Halecki was cut down at the plate trying to score on Mike Sullivan's grounder, second baseman Bobby Sheehan alertly making the throw to catcher Brendan Sharkey.

With one down in the seventh, Matt

Daniels beat out an infield hit, Mike Daley was safe on a fielder's choice erasing Daniels, and Halecki kept things alive with a sharp single sending Daley to third.

Jim Hanning followed with a solid line drive to centerfield, but Ryan Legrow was there for the catch to end the threat and the game.

Blue scored its first run in the third as Sharkey walked, moved to third on an errant pickoff throw and long fly to rightfield by Legrow, and crossed when Sheehan dropped his suicide squeeze bunt for Blue's first hit.

In the fourth Marinaro worked Batchelder for a leadoff walk, stole second, took third on a wild pitch, and scored when Matt Harris' two-out liner ticked off first baseman Bryan Smith's glove for a single.

The winning run came in the fifth as Legrow walked, stole second, moved to third on Sheehan's sacrifice bunt, and raced home on a two-out wild pitch.

Brian Novelline followed with Blue's only solid hit, a triple to right-centerfield, but he was cut down at the plate on two perfect throws from rightfielder Hanning to shortstop Hopkinson to catcher Daniels.

Batchelder struck out at least one batter in every inning, while Marinaro finished with five strikeouts and just two walks.

Halecki led Gold at the plate, going 2-for-3, while Batchelder also contributed a single.

Defensively both teams played well, making just one error apiece.

Bryan Smith had a nice first-inning scoop at first base, while Bobby Sheehan sparked Blue at second base by handling eight chances (two putouts, six assists) flawlessly.

Centennial

The section will also include some commentary dealing with Andover memories.

Section four will deal with Andover institutions, particularly the most famous, Phillips Academy and how the presence of the over 200-year-old has effected Andover. Other institutions to be covered in the section are Andover churches, its schools, the various societies and organizations in the community and Memorial Hall Library.

The final section will deal with industrial growth of the town and also the downtown area and how it has developed over the years.

Scattered throughout the five sections will be briefs about the town during the past 100 years, similar to the Down The Years regular feature appearing in the TOWNSMAN.

Another highlight of the centennial observance will be the dinner program at the Andover Marriott Thursday night at which close to 500 civic leaders and businessmen will be guests.

Nominations

U.S. Rep. Chet Atkins announced that he is accepting applications from high school seniors seeking admission next year to one of the United States service academies.

Young men and women who would like to attend the Military Academy at West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs or the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point must be nominated by their congressman or senator.

Driver Ken Daigle INEX AIRPORT LIMO

Inex Airport Limo is a family run company dedicated to making your trip to Logan Airport less hectic. They provide air conditioned transportation to and from the airport by advanced reservation. When the customer returns from the trip, a call upon arrival guarantees that a vehicle, already stationed at the airport, will pick the traveler up at the designated terminal within ten minutes. This allows for luggage pick-up.

The George Sweeney family, owners of Inex Airport Limo, is in constant contact with the radio dispatched vehicles. Their door to door service is fast and efficient. Reservations may be booked or changed from out of state by calling their toll free number.

In addition to airport transportation, they offer courier and package service within a thirty mile radius of the Andovers, which includes Lawrence, Haverhill, Reading and Lowell. They are also initiating hospital service for those in need of transportation to area medical facilities.

Inex Airport Limo has been in business in this area for three years. Group rates are available. Their hours are 5:00 AM to 12:00 AM daily. For further information or to make a reservation, call 475-5462, or if out of town 1-800-342-4235.

BUYING BY COMPARISON

Here's a short course on home buyer psychology. Buyers buy homes by comparison. The average buyer is no slouch. He'll shop a particular neighborhood and home type. He'll rarely buy the first one he visits. It's too big an investment to be nonchalant. He will then compare prices against COMPARATIVE value and quickly throw out the obviously overpriced homes.

If the buyer really likes one of these overpriced homes, he may make a counter offer at a lower price - closer to its true value. History shows that he'll probably make his offer for one already realistically valued.

Our agency can save you, the home seller, much chagrin in the area of comparative pricing. We know what similar homes are selling for and which homes are not selling due to overpricing. We can help you set the proper selling price - one that will bring the best profit in the shortest time. It makes sense to work with documented facts instead of guesswork. Why not drop in to find out. We have the facts!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

FINANCING A RENOVATION PROJECT

Buying a old house to fix up has its attractions for many families. You can find something with charm and character and plan a renovation that will create just the living environment that you want. You should start with a good Realtor who can help you locate the right house and, more important, recommend several lenders who make both acquisition and construction loans.

Financing a renovation is perhaps the most difficult part of the whole project, especially if the house needs extensive work. Few banks will make these loans to people who are not professional developers. You should prepare for your loan application by having a written proposal. It helps to have an engineer's report or architect's plans, and to include estimates from contractors covering the costs and timetables for the work to be done. The Realtor can help you put together a market analysis of the neighborhood to show that you won't be overimproving the property compared to other homes in your area.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate, are ready to serve you. Call us at 685-5000 or drop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

The Key to Results in Real Estate

Rev. Cornell Receives Appreciation Of Town

The Rev. Gary Cornell, a spiritual leader for both the community and the police department, was lauded for his good works by the Board of Selectmen at their July 11 meeting.

After serving as pastor of Ballard Vale United Church for about seven years, Rev. Cornell was recently transferred to the West Chelmsford Methodist Church. At Monday night's meeting, the smiling chaplain was presented with a certificate by the selectmen thanking him for his work as police chaplain.

In addition to words of praise from the selectmen, James Johnson, Andover police chief, added his appreciation for the extra-curricular provided by the chaplain.

As a volunteer, Rev. Cornell was not compensated monetarily, for the many times he has been called out at night, often for the sensitive duty of notifying families of accidents or deaths, said Johnson.

Rev. Cornell worked as police chaplain for about three years, replacing Father Jim Vitale, O.S.A., who had been at St. Augustine Church.

During his period of service, Rev. Cornell backed up police officers who had the sensitivity, but sometimes not the experience to console grieving relatives, said Johnson.

Andover police Lt. Kevin Lynch recalled one widely-publicized tragedy involving an automobile accident in 1987 that left one Andover teenager dead and three others injured.

After the collision, the driver of the other car involved, "couldn't really cope with the fact of what she had done to the boys," said Lynch.

Rev. Cornell came on a minute's notice and provided immediate support and counseling to the distraught woman, said Lynch.

"We want to thank him for the many things he did for us," Johnson told the selectmen Monday night.

Workshops

The group of teachers is putting together a staff development plan based on what research says are the most important ingredients of a middle school, said Dr. Richard McGrail, principal of Doherty Middle School.

The end result will be a plan specifically geared toward next year's teacher training program, and it will provide a general direction for the next three to five years. All forms of staff development will be included, such as in-service days and consultation, said William Hart, principal of West Middle School.

The development plan should be in place by the beginning of the school year so the faculty can see a solid plan for staff development, Hart said.

Key concepts of a middle school are being explored and certain ones will be emphasized.

The teachers have chosen to accentuate interdisciplinary studies in their proposal. "It will become an integral part of each team's approach to the curriculum," Harol said.

Although it has been a part of past programs at the junior highs, the teachers working on the staff development plan say it should be given more emphasis at the middle schools.

The four teachers will visit the New England Middle School Research Center in Rowley tomorrow to gather samples of excellent interdisciplinary programs and the most current research on key concepts of a middle school, Hart said.

Some concepts are cooperative learning, team teaching and student independence.

Next year is basically a location change for the sixth-graders, said McGrail, adding that curriculum changes will be gradually implemented and completed within three to five years.

"All (curriculum) changes will be done with a great deal of thought," McGrail said. And, "they will be done after studying other school systems and seeing what fits Andover."

While one group of teachers worked on the staff development plan, six others—Paul Dunlap, Paula Eichner, Sue Hutchinson, Walter Rossini, Richard Stevens and Joan Zenofsky—met at the School Committee conference room to write a joint handbook for the two middle schools.

This year, two handbooks will be written—one for parents and one for students.

Both include general school policies, rules and regulations. The students' will also include such things as school activities and maps of the buildings.

A list of the staff and how to contact them and an explanation of team teaching and a middle school are some items that will be included in the parents' version.

The School Committee approved a grade reorganization last January to alleviate an overcrowding problem.
